

GRADUATES CONSIDERING AUSTRALIA

WE HAVE GREAT NEWS

Our Bachelor of Teaching (Early Childhood Education) has been approved by the Australian Children's Education and Care Quality Authority (ACECQA), the body governing early childhood education in Australia.

The approval allows graduates to be granted early childhood teacher (ECT)* status in all Australian states and territories without having to apply for an assessment of their qualification.

Harpreet Singh, who now resides in Melbourne, has recently been granted ECT status: "Having ECT status has lots of benefits, like increasing my employability and chances of getting a better salary," says Harpreet, "and it's further international recognition of my degree that I worked hard to gain."

Graduates who want to be granted ECT status can apply through the ACECQA website. NZTC's Bachelor of Teaching (Early Childhood Education) is listed under code PC9727. A certificate confirming ECT status will be sent in the post.

* The early childhood sector in Australia differs from the one in New Zealand. There are three different levels of teachers - 'educators' who hold a Level 3 qualification, 'educators' who can supervise other educators and hold a Level 5 or 6 qualification; and 'early childhood teachers' who hold a degree and have a management position around curriculum and teaching.

Indonesia and Malaysia

Karena Moffat, International Marketing Officer
(South East Asia)

"I travelled to Indonesia and Malaysia on NZTC's first South East Asia-focused marketing trip.

I was accompanied by Sanil on the first leg of my trip so he could introduce me to educational partners in Kuala Lumpur that NZTC has been working with for several years. After he left for Sri Lanka, I visited institutional and educational partners in Kuala Lumpur, Penang, and Jakarta, as well as connecting with Education New Zealand and Immigration staff.

I was delighted to be able to connect with interested students in these areas and look forward to expanding on my conversations with local specialists and students in future visits."

Sri Lanka and India

Sanil Haria, Marketing Manager/Sanjay Jain,
Senior Marketing Officer

"The seminar in Sri Lanka was especially successful. Our first student to complete an NZTC qualification studying from Sri Lanka, Natasha Jensen, spoke to prospective students about her experiences studying online and answered questions from the audience. She thanked the NZTC team for their support and I presented her with her Certificate in Early Childhood Education (Level 5).

I continued on to India where I visited Delhi, Chandigarh and Mumbai alongside Sanjay Jain, NZTC India's Senior Marketing Officer. We met educational partners, Education New Zealand and Immigration New Zealand team members as well as met many prospective students.

Sanjay visited Kolkata, Ludhiana and Jalandhar. I revisited Vadodra and Ahmedabad, and went to Amritsar and Jaipur for the first time."
